

OPEN CALL

Short Term Mobility Grant for early stage researchers and professionals

=> Note: the submission deadline is postponed

European Forest Institute (EFI) offers 10 grants for Short Term Mobility (STM) for early stage researchers and professionals from or visiting EFI Associate and Affiliate Member organisations with a valid membership for 2020. This is a unique opportunity to get involved in international level forest research and forest related activities.

The aims of a STM are to contribute to the strategic objectives of EFI and to strengthen the EFI network by allowing young scientists and professionals to:

1. gain experience of working in a different organisation in another country,
2. foster collaboration, and
3. learn a new technique, methods or tools not available in their own institution.

In addition, selected research grantees will be offered a possibility to participate in the 2020 Young Researcher Challenge (<http://mwp.org/yr/>) of the prestigious Marcus Wallenberg Prize event in Stockholm.

The STM should take place between 1 July 2020 and 31 May 2021

The deadline for applications is 27 March 2020, 15:00 CET.

=> New deadline: 15 April, 15:00 CET

More on how to apply: <http://www.efi.int/careers/stmg>
